Today declared 'Library Day' in honor of HCLS' national award

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor and Dr. Douglas Brinkley will be guest speakers at a Community Celebration honoring the Hancock County Library System today, Sept. 27, at 4:30 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

Congressman Taylor will present library system officials with the National Award for Library Service, announced last week by First Lady Laura Bush and the Institute for Museum and Library Services in Washington, D.C.

The award is the most distinguished honor bestowed on libraries and museums nationwide. The Hancock County Library System is only one of three libraries to receive the award.

Taylor, who nominated the Hancock County Library System for the award, noted in the application that the library system has been and is a major player in the educational, economic, recre-

D'head pilot plots to stop terrorists

E-mails President Bush a hijack-prevention plan

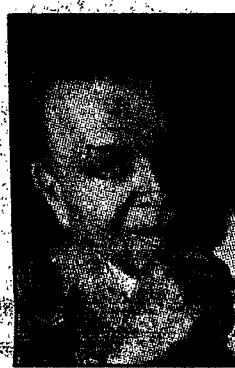

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Diamondhead resident Stuart Aegler has come up with an idea he believes can completely eliminate air piracy and feels could be implemented within a very short period.

Aegler said he began thinking about the problem of terrorists taking control over airlines following the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

While many people in the country may have felt compelled to help after the attacks but didn't necessarily have the expertise, Aegler does know a little something about his subject: He's a retired pilot with 24,000 hours and an airline executive. Prior to that, he was a senior engineering group leader for the company that produced the first color TV picture tubes.

Several local residents with extensive aviation experience said Aegler's ideas sounded brance ceremony for the fallen heroes on Sunday. On Monday, officials from Casino Magic and the city of Bay St. Louis presented more than $40,000 they had raised for victim relief through donation collections.

Faculty and students at St. Clare Elementary participated in a special mass Tuesday to honor the police and fire workers and other emergency personnel killed or injured in the attacks, and those working to clear the wreckage. Students at schools all over Hancock and Harrison counties have participated in special remembrance projects and ceremonies.

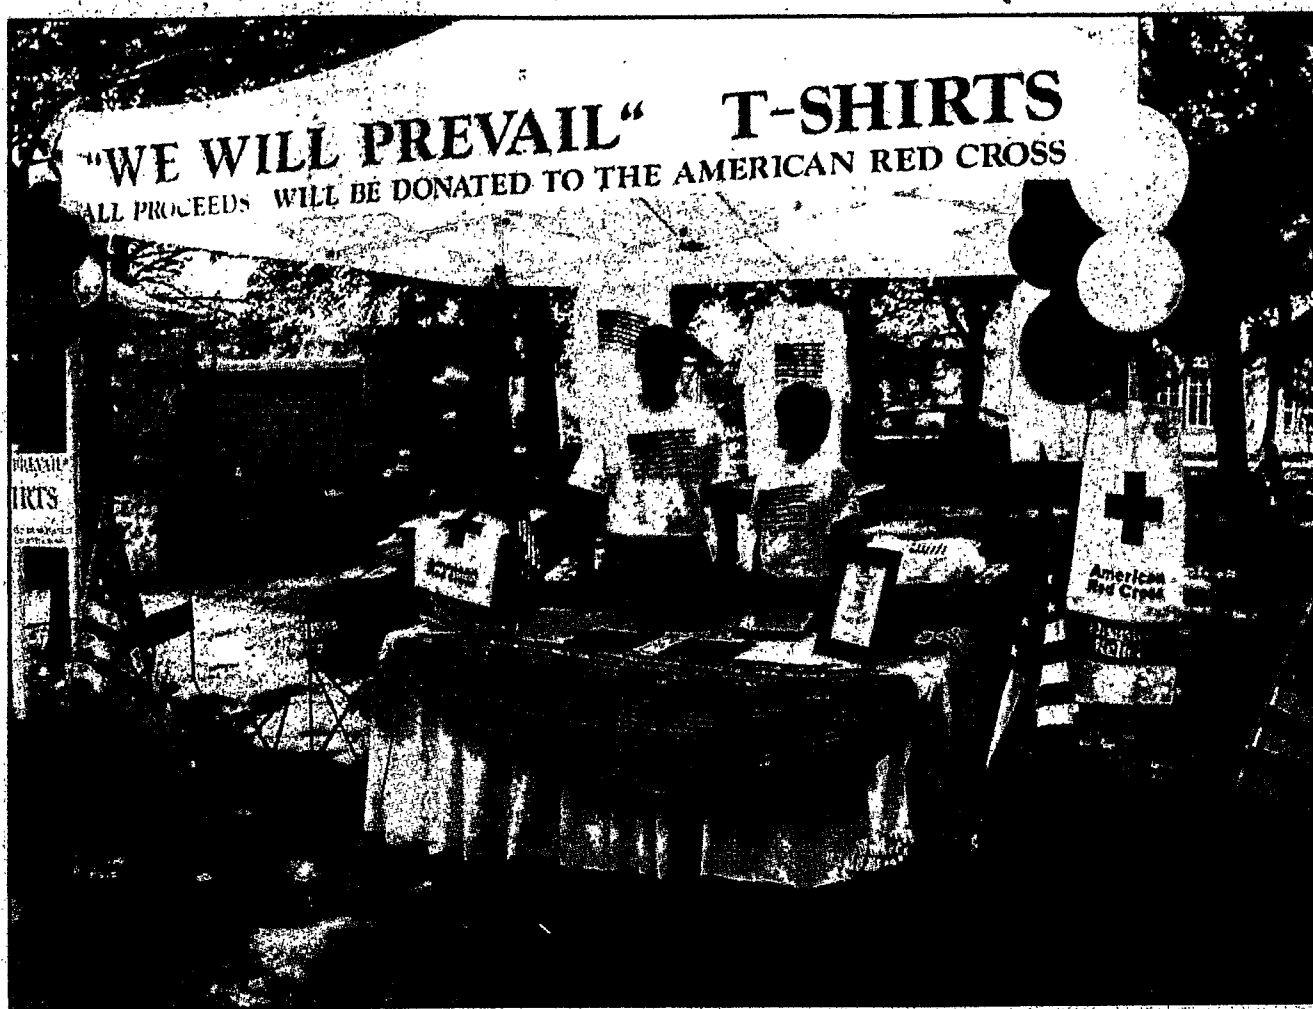

While the American Red Cross had canceled earlier blood drives in Hancock County due to the emergency, it has now scheduled several for the month of October.

"The immediate influx of blood donors across the entire Gulf Coast region was so great that we had to mobilize our nurses to Red Cross blood centers where hundreds of people were streaming in to donate," Liz Gaulke, account manager with the American Red Cross, said in a statement released on Monday.

"We did not have the resources to handle our regular donor centers and conduct all the blood drives we had scheduled out in our communities," Gaulke said.

"Most blood drives were seeing four to five times the usual number of blood donors at those sites."

"Our September calendar was full before the crisis happened. In an effort to take care of the donors who were already planning to give this month and the hundreds we did not expect, we found ourselves having to postpone some drives and not being able to add new ones right away," she said.

Under normal circumstances, the American Red Cross Gulf Coast Region sends almost 500 pints of blood per day to patients in the hospitals it serves.

The Red Cross is also called on to supply the Department of Defense during times of military action. Consequently, the need for increased blood collections has not and will not stop.

To donate blood, you must be 17 years old or older, weigh at least 110 pounds, have not donated blood in the past 56 days and be in good health.

For more information, call the Red Cross at 896-2217 or 1-888-432-5663.

Pearl River County checking license tags

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

While Hancock County supervisors are concerned about a loss of property tax revenues, they might look to what supervisors in Pearl River County are doing.

By order of that board, the district attorney has begun a crackdown to ensure those claiming a homestead exemption in Pearl River County purchase tags in Pearl River County for every vehicle they own.

During recent debates on Hancock County's budget for the upcoming year beginning Oct. 1, supervisors expressed concerns about a drop in property tax revenue caused by the state legislature's decision to raise the tax exemption from $60,000 to $75,000.

Tax Assessor/Collector Jimmie Ladner is crunching the figures to determine whether new growth in the county might offset the loss, projected recently, at around $500,000.

As a result, supervisors have delayed giving county full-time and part-time employees any kind of pay raise, but have promised to "revisit" the issue next January.

In Pearl River County last month, District Attorney Claiborne "Buddy" McDonald issued a stern warning to people living in Picayune, Poplarville or rural areas of Pearl River County. In a press release, he said, "If you claim homestead exemption on your home in Pearl River County ... you must get Mississippi tags for all your vehicles."

McDonald backed up his warning with action.

When school classes began last month, the sheriff's department stationed deputies at various schools. They took down license tag numbers as parents or others dropped their children off at school. If the vehicle had an out-of-town license tag, a check was run to see if the owner of the car was claiming a homestead exemption in Pearl River County.

McDonald also asked residents to help report those persons who own their homes in Pearl River county and have out-of-state tags. Citizens were furnished the phone numbers of the Picayune and Poplarville Police Departments and the Pearl River Sheriff's Office.

"Failure to get Mississippi tags if you are claiming homestead exemption on your house is a felony punishable by a prison term or fine," McDonald warned. "Remember, vehicle tags money supports our schools. Everyone should pay their fair share."

Pass alderman actions affect employees

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Pass Christian city leaders have taken several steps affecting city employees.

The Board of Aldermen Tuesday night followed recommendations of Mayor Billy McDonald and city comptroller Janet Dudding, changing the policy on vacation, sick and compensatory time and adopting a Family Medical Leave Act.

McDonald said the city needed to get some kind of handle on the amount of compensatory time being built up by the city work force.

Dudding explained non-public safety employees can accrue up to 240 hours in comp time, and after that, must be compensated for it at their regular rate of pay. Police and Firemen, who sometimes work 24-hour shifts, can accrue up to 480 hours.

She explained money is not budgeted for compensatory time. "We're trying to protect ourselves financially," said Dudding.

McDonald said, "The purpose of the compensatory time is to use it, not to cash it in."

The Board acted on several fronts.

- It amended vacation policy to allow employees to automatically carry forward one-year's accrual from the end of the fiscal year into the new fiscal year. (Before, employees would lose vacation days if they had not taken them during the current fiscal year).

- Another amendment spells out the city would only be liable to pay a maximum of four work weeks of accrued vacation time when an employee resigns or retires.

- The vacation and sick leave policy was also amended to require an employee to first take compensatory time off until compensatory time balances are depleted prior to taking either vacation or sick leave.

The Family and Medical Leave Act adopted by the Board follows federal and state guidelines.

Eligible employees would be entitled to 12 weeks of unpaid leave during any 12-month period. To be eligible, employees must have been employed by the city for at least 12 months and have worked a minimum of 1,250 hours during the 12-month period.

Family and Medical Leave is allowed for childbirth and care of the newborn; for adopting a child or for foster care; and for the care of an employee's spouse, children or parent with a serious health or psychological condition.

Benefit set for Tommy Ladner

The VFW Post 4808 in Lakeshore is sponsoring a benefit on Saturday, Sept. 29, 10 a.m. until, for Tommy Ladner to help pay medical bills due to his heart condition. There will be food, cakes, beer, and music. In addition, many items will be available in raffles and at auction.

County may host Hazardous Collection Drive

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Hancock County might finance a hazardous waste collection drive sometime this fall or next spring.

The possibility was discussed last week at the monthly meeting of the Regional Solid Waste Authority.

Authority administrator Stacie Myrick reported the state Department of Environmental Quality has already apportioned grants to finance collection days throughout the state, but Hancock County did not get assistance this year.

Myrick said she learned MDEQ was doling out the money to large municipalities or to rural areas, which never before had a hazardous waste collection day.

District 3 Supervisor Lisa Coward said she was disappointed because she had already told some constituents who asked that a collection drive would probably be staged sometime in October.

She and Authority Chairman Mayor Eddie Favre asked Myrick to look into the state's financial situation to determine whether it could finance the drive sometime in the future.

Traditionally, the county has used a $10,000 grant from MDEQ to stage the drive. The money is used to pay someone to organize the drive. The organizer lines up various vendors to come on site the day of the drive. Some firms are interested in recycling tires, old batteries, paint and other solvents, and participate in the drive, usually held in the parking lot of K-Mart.

Past events staged in Hancock County in the past have been very successful.

In other business, commissioners learned the county's recycling contract with Mississippi ResorSys, Inc., expires at the end of the year. The pact includes an option to extend the present contract for four years, one year at a time.

Commissioners are still wrestling over whether recycling in the two cities and in Diamondhead is worth the effort.

In past discussions, Favre said the authority pays around $15,000 a month to recycle an average of 42.7 tons per month. Putting that waste in a landfill would cost the authority only about $9,000 a year, he estimates.

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo also complained the present contract doesn't provide any incentives for Mississippi ResorSys, Inc., to increase participation.

Commissioners also learned the recycling firm has 107 collection bins, but tabled a request to purchase any more. Instead, they voted to direct the recycling firm to distribute those on hand to citizens of Waveland who might want to recycle.

Diamondhead Fire District plans 'Fire Prevention Day'

BY LT. STEVE HARRISON

October is Fire Prevention Month, and in our ongoing effort to educate the community in fire prevention techniques, the Diamondhead Fire Department will be hosting another Fire Prevention Day Saturday, Oct. 13, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Diamondhead Fire Station.

Bay St. Louis Fire Department has again loaned us the use of their Allstate Fire Safety Trailer to demonstrate and educate your children on the proper methods of fire safety and escape routes from a burning home.

All throughout the day, we will have demonstrations on vehicle fires and extractions using the "jaws of life." There will be a coloring contest for the kids with prizes, give-aways and refreshments for everyone. Plan on stopping by with the kids for Fire Prevention Day at the Fire Department.

Krewe of Nereids Fish Fry is Oct. 6

The Krewe of Nereids will host its annual Fish Fry and Dance Saturday, Oct. 6.

"This event is the major fundraiser that enables the Krewe to bring its spectacular parade to our community each year. So plan to join the party at the Hancock Community Center on Longfellow Road in Bay St. Louis this year," said spokesperson Nancy Artigues.

The fun begins at 4 p.m. with a dinner of perfectly fried catfish, hushpuppies, green beans, potato salad, garlic bread and tea for $6.50. Desserts and take-out orders are also available.

After dinner, there will be music by "Prime Time." Dance tickets are $12.50 per person and set-ups will be provided: BYOB.

For those attending the dance, the members of Nereids will present a show of entertainment. This begins at 7 p.m., followed by the dance from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m.

Throughout the evening, guests will have the opportunity to bid on a variety of unique silent auction items and participate in the $1000 raffle.

"So enjoy good food and entertainment while supporting the Krewe of Nereids in their 36th year of bringing Mardi Gras fun and excitement to the Bay-Waveland area," Artigues

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

I am delighted at the announcement coming from the White House this month reporting that the Hancock County Library System has been chosen for the National Award for Library and Museum Service, the most distinguished award bestowed on libraries and museums nationwide.

United States Congressman Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis nominated the Hancock County Library System for the distinguished award.

The Hancock County Library System is only one of three libraries nationwide to receive the award from First Lady Laura Bush.

The awards were presented on September 17 in Washington, but because of the recent terrorist attack, no one from the local library system was able to attend.

On this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. there will be a Community Celebration honoring the Hancock County Library System at the library in Bay St. Louis.

This is really a tremendous honor for our local library to receive, including Hancock County Library System director Prima Planché, her staff, and the Hancock County Library's board of trustees.

Just think, when I began my newspaper career, the library was located in a room in the building on Court Street next to the Bay City Hall Annex.

Through the efforts of many, our library system is what it is today.

Congratulations to each and every one who helped the library system of our county to move along to the stage it is today.

Our library leadership and staff is the greatest, and we are proud to honor such a group of fine folks.

I received a telephone call Saturday morning from Garland Belote of Bay St. Louis, reporting that someone had stolen his American flag from his flag pole in his yard sometime during Friday night.

Belote said he hopes that whoever took his flag will at least display it properly.

Belote, who is retired from the Air Force, is very patriotic and has already installed another flag at his residence.

I really think that it is a shame for someone to steal an American flag from someone's property. This country has enough worries not to have to deal with thieves.

When summer ends, many think things will slow down a bit as far as activities go in the community - wrong.

It now seems there are always several events happening every weekend, and many times events one would like to attend are happening at the same time.

On Saturday and Sunday there will be the 18th annual Diamondhead Creative Arts & Crafts Show at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The hours are 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

This year's lineup of exhibitors includes many familiar names, crafters who have brought their quality work or years. Featured will be wood and fabric crafts, quilted items, dried and silk flower arrangements, pottery, ceramics, porcelain, etched glass, ribbon crafts, potpourri, leather crafts, and many, many more.

There will be free shuttle bus transportation provided from the Diamondhead Shopping Center parking lot on both days.

Time to start doing your Christmas shopping. The Diamondhead Arts and Crafts Show may be a good place.

One of the big events for the coastal area this Saturday, for our neighbors across the Bay in Pass Christian, is the annual Celebrate the Gulf, a Marine Education Festival, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Pass Christian Harbor.

This is really a family affair keyed as a learning experience for students about our most prestigious resource, the Gulf of Mexico and supporting waters.

There will be lively hands-on exhibits addressing marine and estuarine environmental issues and recreational and commerce.

QUOTES-PAGE 5A

We must make sacrifices to protect our freedom

To the Editor:
Monday night I set watching a commentator on TV, I got so angry at what he was saying that I actually turned the TV off.

This man said that our government was using the September 11, 2001 tragedy to take away our rights. He said that our leaders were taking away our right to free movement by placing armed military in our airports.

Is this man so stupid that he doesn't realize that our government is trying to protect our land and our people?

On September 11, 2001 around 8:50 a.m. our country was attacked by terrorists. These cowards took over our planes and used them as weapons of destruction.

They took from us thousands of innocent lives. So this commentator has the audacity to say our government does not have the right to protect our homeland with all necessary actions. How dare he!

I'm 32 years old and have never experienced an act of war as what happened on the morning of September 11, 2001. I took for granted our country and our freedom, but never again will I believe that freedom is an American right. Freedom is a privilege not a right, and freedom is not free, it comes with a cost.

If my government says that we must have armed military on every airplane that flies our skies, then I say put them there. If my government says we must have the National Guard on every street corner for our homeland defense, then I say put them on every corner.

To have freedom we must defend freedom from those who seek to destroy it. If drastic measures must take place to protect this land of freedom then the people of the United States must support these measurements and those who decide to use them.

The American people have turned away from God lately. Now I see them united in prayer. In God we must trust to see us through this tragedy. I see the American people supporting our leaders. We must not let a few small-minded people destroy our unity.

The terrorists thought to destroy us, but they have made us stronger. They thought to divide us, but they have united us like never before. Our President has stood up to this act of war. He has said the lives lost will be avenged.

President Bush has asked for the American people support, so we all must give our support to our president, our leaders, and our military forces.

Americans should be willing to sacrifice some things to protect our freedom and our very way of life. It is not our government who is threatening our freedom. It is the terrorist who came on to our soil to attack us.

So as you go about your day, and if you happen to see a member of our armed forces, do not think that his being there is infringing on your rights, know that his being there is protecting your rights and even your life.

So tonight when you start to bed, remember to keep our President our leaders and our military in your prayers,

Denise Thomas
Kiln

Not everyone waving the flag is patriotic or even well-intentioned

To the Editor:
Not everyone waving the flag in Hancock County is patriotic - one is a thief!

Someone came, in the dead of night, and stole my flag which was secured to a post. It wasn't a big flag nor was it a tiny flag, but one I'd had for a number of years cleaning and pressing it after each use.

But I don't need the flag to be patriotic. Patriotism is in my home. My disabled husband is retired U.S. Army. He served in Korea, earning the Purple Heart after 11 1/2 months; he was stationed at a small missile base in Turkey during the Cuban Missile Crisis; he served in Vietnam twice, the second time at 40 years old. Where were you?

If you stole my flag because none were available, please make a donation to the disaster/relief fund.

Sincerely,
Barbara Moody

Sept. 11: Our second Pearl Harbor

Tuesday morning Sept. 11, 2001 was just another summer day in New York City, where it had begun for its eight million inhabitants, but would come to a sudden, tragic end for over six thousand whose jobs put them in the World Trade Center's Twin Towers at 9:10 on that particular morning, when a hijacked American Airlines jumbo jet filled with passengers and fuel crashed into the 82nd floor of the tower and exploded, toppling this 110-story structure which had been an important part of Manhattan's famous skyline.

Americans now have two dates to remember that will live in infamy: Dec. 7, 1941, when the Japanese Air Force bombed our naval station, sinking our ships that were anchored in Pearl Harbor on that peaceful Sunday morning in Hawaii.

Most of the 2200 Americans killed were our sailors asleep in the their bunks aboard ships.

The second date to live in infamy is Sept. 11, 2001, when over six thousand Americans were killed less than 60 years later in lower Manhattan.

Unfortunately, all of these victims were very much awake when they saw what was happening and knew the end had come for them.

New York's firemen and their equipment were at the scene in minutes, saving as many people as humanly possible, and losing many of their own in the process.

The terrorists responsible for this cowardly attack on our people will pay dearly, just as the Japanese did for their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor a half century ago. We dropped the world's first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, and when they refused to surrender unconditionally, we dropped a second atomic bomb on Nagasaki, thereby ending World War II on our terms.

Those responsible for the Trade Center tragedy will soon learn much more about America and its people when they are finally brought to justice.

No one on this earth will ever kill an American and go unpunished, simply because we won't let them! Our record speaks for itself.

Terry Necaise seeks Constable East post

Terry Necaise of the Rocky Hill community, announces his candidacy for Constable East in the November 6 special election.

His wife is Darlene Cuevas Necaise, and they are the parents of a daughter, Amanda, and a son, Brian.

Necaise, 45, is retired from the U.S. Navy after 20 years of service. He is a 1976 graduate of Hancock North Central and attended Pearl River Community College in Poplarville.

Necaise is a graduate of the Kissimmee Florida Police Academy, was a reserve officer for three years with the Florida Highway Patrol, and was Chief Master at Arms on two Navy vessels, (responsible to the Commanding Officer for the order and discipline of the crew).

He is a graduate of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service as plant and animal quarantine officer, and is also a graduate of the U.S. Customs Service, Military Customs Inspector training, and a graduate of the Department of Defense Senior Law Enforcement Supervisors course.

He is now a Naval Science instructor, NJROTC, at Brother Martin High School in New Orleans. He is also a recent graduate of the Reserve Officer Training Academy conducted at Hancock High School, where he received a Reserve/Part-Time Officers Certification.

In making his announcement he said, "If elected, I will serve Hancock County with honor, pride and dignity. I will use my 20 years of military leadership experience and law enforcement training in the execution of my duties and responsibilities."

His goals as constable will be to work with other community leaders to establish more youth programs and to work with the Sheriff's Department in making our county a safer place to live, work and play, and also to help establish an open line of communication between law enforcement and the community.

And he added, "To remain visible within the community, and to serve as a role model for the youth of Hancock County."

cial activities associated with the Gulf.

One of the most popular booth at this annual event is the touching pool with marine animals, native plants and state-of-the-art oceanographic equipment and wildlife rehabilitation equipment.

For parents there will be a Marine Cuisine tent featuring demonstrations on how to choose, prepare and cook Mississippi seafood.

There will also be a Junior Catch and Release Fishing Rodeo from 8 to 11 a.m. for children 12 and under. Young anglers will learn techniques for catching and releasing their fish, and prizes will be awarded for the largest fish.

In the Pass Saturday and Sunday, down the road from the harbor, the Petit College Art Festival will be held showing the works of about 30 local artists. A free trolley ride will be available Saturday up the hill from the Celebrate Festival to Botánica (118 W. Scenic Drive) and downtown Pass Christian where artisans will display and sell their works. Local merchants will be sponsoring booths of the artisans, and food vendors will also be available at both festivals.

Sponsors for Celebrate the Gulf include the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources/Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve, Mississippi Power Company, Northrup Grumman Ingalls, Gulf of Mexico Program, City of Pass Christian, Chevron and DuPont.

There will be fun time in Pass Christian this weekend.

Local high school football moves into its fifth week Friday night with Bay High, Hancock High and Pass Christian at home, while Stanislaus goes across town.

There were two thrillers last Friday night, Bay High losing 10-9 to East Central and Hancock the victor over St. Martin 20-17.

St. Stanislaus turned up the 'gas' last week and crossed the goal line for their first points of the season downing Ocean Springs 34-19 in Greyhound country.

The game between Bay High, 3-1, and St. Stanislaus, 1-3, should have lots of excitement, as you can usually throw out the prior records before the cross-town rivals play. A suggestion to those going to the Tiger-Rock-A-Chaw encounter is to get to the J.D. McCullough stadium early if you want a seat.

Hancock will be hosting Petal at home Friday night, as

Coster announces bid for constable

Mary I. "Izzy" Coster, of Bay St. Louis, has announced her candidacy for the office of Hancock County Constable, East, which will be on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Coster, originally from Shreveport, currently serves as a warranty administrator for Abacus Technology Corp. at Stennis Space Center, and has been at Stennis for more than 17 years.

She, 51, is the mother of son Austin, 25, and daughter Angela, 19, and served for 12 years in the United States Air Force.

She has lived in Hancock County for the past 19 years, and graduated from the Reserve Police Academy in April, 1997.

"I have many hours of volunteer (and) paid service with city and county agencies," Coster said in a press release announcing her candidacy. "I love being in law enforcement and truly appreciate the opportunities to serve the city and county, and hope to continue for years to come.

"I currently work many school athletic functions. If elected, I will work with the booster clubs of the recreational teams to provide security for events at no cost, when available. I also look forward to extra night patrol when possi-

Award-winning

The Hancock High School Talons Dance Team recently visited the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg for their four-day American-All Star camp. The team's hard work received four awards which included the Judges Award, Most Spirited Award, a superior rating for their home night routine, and a superior rating for competition. In addition, the Talons received two invitations to the national competition in Universal Studios, Orlando. Eleven All Stars were chosen from the team, including top from left, Haley Lee, Courtney Peterson, Kimberly Ray, Chelsea Paschall, Bess Wilson, Jamie Thornhill, Maegan Thornton; bottom row, Belynn Sheffield, Allison Chauvan, Alyse Stephens, Heather Moran and Jennifer Canaski.

Dance Team

The 2001-2002 Hancock Middle School Dance Team recently attended the American Allstar Camp at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. They received a superior rating in Home Night Routine and in Competition Routine. They also received a superior rating in overall composite scores. For these honors, the HMS Dance Team, coached by Tammy Ladner, qualifies for state competition to be held in Jackson in January and national competition at Universal Studios in Orlando, Fla. in February 2002.

Fifth grade cultural workshop set for Saturday

ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Cultural Diversity Workshop for five fifth graders from each school system in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River counties will be conducted Saturday, Sept. 29, 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Word of Faith Church, Old Spanish Trail, Waveland.

The workshop is sponsored by Mississippi State University's 2001 Pro-Miss Leadership Class.

Darlene Underwood, Hancock County home economist, said, "The goal of the workshop is for fifth grade students to understand our appearances and cultures and that we are more alike than we think we are."

In addition to the students there will be two teachers from each school system. This is so the workshop information can be taught to other students in the respective school systems.

Underwood said several special guest speakers will be at the workshop, and a special meal will be served to participants.

Receives scholarship

In 1994, a medical alumni scholarship fund began with contributions from each University of Mississippi Medical Center (UMC) reunion class. Among this year's recipients was Melissa A. Scholes, seated, a third-year medical student from Bay St. Louis. More than $12,000 in scholarships will be given to Scholes and the other scholarship recipients because of UMC's supportive alumni. Dr. Wallace Conerly, standing, is UMC vice chancellor for health affairs and dean of the School of Medicine.

A contribution of $1,000 was made in her name to the Kiwanis International Foundation for its Worldwide Service Project (WSP). WSP was adopted by Kiwanis with the goal of virtually eliminating iodine deficiency disorders, the world's leading cause of preventable mental retardation in children. Each contribution of $1,000 will touch the lives of 20,000 children. To date the Kiwanis Club of Hancock County has donated nearly $10,000 to the Kiwanis WSP. Kiwanis, known for serving the world's children, has made a strong commitment to eliminate this scourge from the face of the earth.

Teaching conservation education field day set

The Hancock County Soil & Water Conservation District's 14th annual Conservation Education Field Day is Oct. 4-5. "Sounds of laughter, eyes of wonder, ears perked to listen and touching the wonders of our natural resources are all part of our Conservation Education Field Day being held on October 4 at McLeod Park and Oct. 5 at Buccaneer State Park," said Norma Doré, information and education coordinator.

More than 700 students and teachers will be in attendance and enjoying the natural beauty and delights of being outdoors in these habitats that are full of wildlife and provide the perfect setting for teaching the kids.

Geared to the fourth grade level of every school child in Hancock County, this annual event has become the highlight of the year for teachers and students.

With seven stops, each timed as a 10-minute event, allowing a specialist to talk about the subjects of that stop and how it affects our lives. Educational stops include Wildlife Habitat, Wetlands, Marine Debris, Forestry, Soils Recycling and Fire Safety.

Field specialist from USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Mississippi State Extension Service, Master Gardeners, Hancock County Soil & Water Conservation District, Mississippi Soil & Water Conservation Commission, Marine & Fisheries, Kiln and Waveland Fire Department all play a vital part in making this a fun, educational, and beneficial day for the students and teachers.

This is our 14th year to present this event. The joy of hearing the students returning to class and talk about the wonderful things they have learned makes the time and effort rewarding to all who participate," said Doré.

"But the most rewarding is to know these students have come away with a healthy respect for our many natural resources to protect and conserve them for the students of the future."

Auditions announced for Christmas musical revue

Auditions for principal acting/singing roles will take place Thursday, Oct. 4, 7 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater, 301 Boardman Avenue, Bay St. Louis for "Twas The Last Mailing Day Before Christmas," a fast-paced comedy-drama to be presented at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater on the weekend of Dec. 14-16. Anyone 13 years and older is invited to attend.

"Twas The Last Mailing Day Before Christmas," directed by Syd and Angie DeFraithe, is a musical production that explores the "why do we do it?" aspect of Christmas.

The frenzied activities that usually surround the holidays eventually give way to the deeper meaning, the message of hope, that Christmas brings to the world.

The musical will be free of charge, and will also serve as an opportunity for the community to make donations to a local charity.

People are needed to fill roles in all aspects of the production, from actors and singers to fighting/sound technicians, set builders, costumes, and stage managers.

Speaking, non-speaking, group singing, and soloist parts will all be required.

Anyone interested in a principal singing role is to bring a cassette or CD with background music.

For additional information, call 467-4488 or by e-mail at wofbsl@aol.com.

LILA MAE BONE
Lila Mae Bone, 55, of Kiln, died Thursday, Sept. 13, 2001, in Gulfport.

Mrs. Bone was a native of Wisconsin and a former resident of Alabama. She was a resident of the Gulf Coast for three years and was a homemaker.

Survivors include her husband, Herman Bone of Kiln; three sons, Dennis Schulz, Danny Kearley and Jason Buchholz; a daughter, Holly Andrews; two brothers, Robert Kidrick and Kinny Kidrick; and two sisters, Janice Paar and Kathy Drinkmen, all of Wisconsin.

The family will have private services at a later date. Riemann Memorial Funeral Home, US-49 North, Gulfport, is in charge of arrangements.

GWENDOLYN ISHEM

Gwendolyn E. Ishem, age unavailable, of Bay St. Louis, died Monday, Sept. 24, 2001, in New Orleans.

Services are pending at J. T. Hall Funeral Home in Gulfport.

CHARLES JUSTICE, JR.

Charles Graham Justice, Jr., 81, of New Orleans and Pass Christian, died Sunday, Sept. 23, 2001, in New Orleans.

Mr. Justice was a native of Greensboro, Ala. He attended New Orleans Academy where he was a member of the City Championship Football Team. He also attended Tulane University. He was president of Lighting Fixture & Electric Supply Company. He was a member of the Southern Yacht Club where he sailed on the Lipton Cup Team and was Junior Commodore. He was a member of the Pass Christian Yacht Club and past member of the New Orleans Country Club and several carnival organizations. He was also a member of the Young Presidents' Club.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Neal Helton Justice and Charles Graham Justice; and a son, Baldwin Karl Justice. Survivors include his wife, Jacqueline Pugh Justice, a daughter, Aphra Justice Claverie; a son, Charles Graham Justice III; a stepdaughter, Shelley Hyde Bentz; and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at Trinity Church in New Orleans. Private interment followed in Metairie Cemetery directed by Lakelawn Metairie Funeral Home.

The family prefers donations to the American Red Cross or a charity of choice.

JEAN MAGILL LUCK

Jean Magill Luck, 69, formerly of Pass Christian and a resident of Huntsville, Ala., died Wednesday, Sept. 26, 2001.

Mr. Luck received his AB in sociology at Duke University and was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He obtained his law degree at the University of North Carolina where he served on the North Carolina Law Review Board of Editors and was a member of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity. He served in the United States Navy as a Lieutenant J.G. for three years during the Korean War. For some 25 years-plus he was in Governmental Affairs/Public Relations with two Fortune 500 companies. He was a Counselor in the Profession of Public Relations holding accreditation by the Public Relations Society of America and held membership in the Counselors Academy of the Society.

In 1984, Mr. Luck received a citation from President Ronald Reagan in a White House Rose Garden ceremony "For outstanding dedication to the career development of the youth of our nation and for generous support of the Private Sector Summer Jobs Program."

For many years he was active in the local Chamber of Commerce; Trinity Episcopal Church Choir, Pass Christian; Mississippi Gulf Coast Opera Theater, and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Messiah Chorus. He recently moved to Huntsville, Ala. from Pass Christian.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, Sara H. Luck of Goldsboro, N.C.; his mother, Rebekah M. Luck of Kershaw, N.C. and his father, Felix A. Luck III of Savannah, Ga.

Mr. Luck is survived by his wife, Elizabeth G. Luck of Huntsville, Ala.; his brother, Felix E. Luck of Mt. Tabor, N.J.; two sons, Stephen B. Luck of Paso Robles, Calif., and David F. Luck of Fayetteville, N.C.; two daughters, Mrs. Anne L. Gervasi of Greensboro, N.C. and Mrs. Linda R. Luck of Birmingham, Ala. Also surviving are two step-daughters, Mrs. Kimberly M. Cantrell of Huntsville, Ala. and Miss Margaret E. Thomas of Byron, Ga., as well as several grandchildren.

A memorial service will be conducted at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Huntsville, Ala. on Saturday, Sept. 29 at 2 p.m. The family will receive visitors in the Parish Hall following the service.

The family would appreciate memorials to the Alzheimer's Association or to the St. Thomas Episcopal Church Building Fund, 12200 Bailey Cove Road SE, Huntsville, AL 35803.

ational and cultural aspects of the community, and is recognized as one of the progressive leaders for public services."

Historian and author Dr. Douglas Brinkley, a Hancock County Library System user and director of the Eisenhower Center for American Studies in New Orleans, will present special remarks about the importance of the Hancock County Library System and the freedom to read. He has said that "libraries offer a community windows through which we see the world."

"Libraries are a place where we can join together as citizens and expand our minds and broaden our horizons," he said. "We must recognize the invaluable role they serve and applaud all who support the Hancock County Library System and its legacy to literacy."

Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector emeritus, Christ Episcopal Church, will begin the ceremony with an invocation, followed by the National Anthem and Pledge of Allegiance by Janet Penton, administrative assistant, Hancock County Schools.

Others on the program include Joyce Z. Lee, chairman, library system Board of Trustees; and Prima Plauché, library system director.

A special proclamation will be presented by Rodrick "Rocky" Pullman, president, Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Edward A. Favre, mayor, City of Bay St. Louis; and Tommy Longo, mayor, City of Waveland.

Father Sebastian, SVD, pastor of St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church, will present the benediction.

Janet Penton will then lead the entire group in singing God Bless America.

Wastewater district eyes $1.7M budget

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The Southern Regional Wastewater Management District approved a $1,715,219, 2001/2002 budget at its monthly board meeting last week. Highlights of the budget include $320,804 for administration; $699,571 for operations and maintenance; $661,141 for debt retirement; $14,472 for plant leasing fees; and $19,230 for lagoon leasing fees.

In other business:

• Controversy continues over funding for the proposed county-wide waste water treatment plan. Hancock County board member Gerald Gex expressed what he called "deep concern" over the fact that, as yet, none of the hoped-for grants to assist in funding have materialized. Gex also expressed concern that the county may find itself obligated to pay back millions in loans should the project continue without grant funds.

• Gulf of Mexico Program Deputy Director Bryon Griffith said that the county may have lost the focus gained over the last year's negotiations. Griffith reminded the board that estimated costs in the original plan were based on a "worst-case scenario" of the county receiving no grant funds for the project. He urged county wastewater districts to move back toward the united front that he said is necessary to make the project successful.

The various districts agreed to a unified meeting next month with an objective to clear up any questions and get back on track as a united group.

• The Southern Regional Waster Water Plant in Waveland has acquired some long awaited help. New Zealander Stu Craib has arrived to help with the Phase I expansion that is under way at the plant.

Craib is officially employed as a contract operator for the expansion, but the budget report states that the ultimate goal of the plant is to employ Craib as a full-time director of facilities operations after necessary permits are approved.

"We will just have to wait and see what happens," said Craib.

Craib, an expert in wastewater treatment with more than 30 years' experience, did a three-month stint at the plant early last year to troubleshoot operational difficulties. He has contracted all over New Zealand and Australia as a plant manager to commission new plants, and as a troubleshooter.

This time around, he will work mainly with the building of the new oxidation ditches, which will increase the capacity of the plant. He will also help familiarize the men with the equipment being used. Oddly enough, the equipment is manufactured in New Zealand, but designed by a company, United, in Baton Rouge, Craib said.

• Warren Swanson, representing the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District, said at a previous board meeting that his district may be interested in joining the county plan for wastewater treatment, but that board members would need to be convinced that it would be an advantage for the community.

Swanson also said that the district is planning to add a new three-million-gallon retention area and may, at some point, consider servicing an area north of the Diamondhead community. He also said that he would like the district to consider using "gray water," which is treated wastewater to water the community's golf courses. Many other communities use "gray water" for this purpose, Swanson said.

In Loving Memory
William T. Nelson
Sept. 27, 1935 - Feb. 19, 1999

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true,
Just the love and sweet devotion,
Of the ones who think of you.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought your death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell,
The sorrow of parting without farewell.

You're not forgotten, father, dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember true.

We think of you in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But still within our aching hearts,
Your memory we keep.

Someday we hope to meet you,
Someday we know not when,
We shall meet in a better land,
And never part again.

Rear Admiral Thomas Q. Donaldson, V

Rear Admiral Donaldson addresses Coffee Call

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

U.S. Navy Rear Adm. Thomas Q. Donaldson, V, facility commander at the John C. Stennis Space Center, was the featured speaker for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Call Wednesday at the Bay St. Louis Depot.

Rear Adm. Donaldson explained the reason for his command and why he has this job. It is because the Navy's fleet is underway today, as one-third of it is at all times.

The Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command's mission is to collect, interpret, and apply global data and information for safety at sea. The command provides meteorological, oceanographic, and geospatial information and services to increase the effectiveness of America's Navy in both peacetime and conflict.

Donaldson's command comprises some 3,000 officers, enlisted and civilian personnel at two master computers, as well as a number of regional centers, facilities, detachments across the world and aboard the ships and aircrafts used in conducting oceanographic surveys.

He said that between the Navy at Stennis, Gulfport, Pascagoula, and Meridian, the government has a $2 billion investment in the state of Mississippi.

The Navy's computer at Stennis is the largest environmental computer in the world and can compute three trillion computations a second.

The ships of his command spend 78 percent of the time surveying the world's oceans. They work in areas which may be a trouble spot in the future, he said.

His command's responsibility is from the bottom of the oceans to the top of the atmosphere.

In the Navy's overall picture, Rear Adm. Donaldson's command operates on one-half percent of the Navy's annual budget.

On reporting weather conditions, he said, five forecasts are given for each Navy flight mission of airplanes and helicopters.

He also said it takes the Navy fleet some 36 to 48 hours to get the ships out to sea from Norfolk, Va. So the forecasting of a hurricane has to be accurate. One of the reasons for the length of time Donaldson said, is because of a shortage of tugs available.

Rear Adm. Donaldson, when asked the reasons for the place of residence he chose when he assumed command at Stennis, said it was quality of life and educational opportunities for his children.

The Donaldsons reside in Diamondhead. Mrs. Donaldson is a teacher and reported she has done some substitute teaching in the county system.

The Chamber's Coffee Call was sponsored by Daddy O's Cafe and Grill, Waveland.

Head of business advocacy group to speak at Coast Business Expo

The state director of the National Federation of Independent Business will be the keynote speaker for next month's Business Expo 2001.

The appearance by Ron Aldridge of Jackson will be one of the highlights of this year's Expo, which runs Oct. 10-11 at the Coast Convention Center. The Expo, in its 12th year, will feature booths, exhibits and product samples from dozens of businesses and industries.

Aldridge first served as NFIB director from 1989 until 1992, and returned the position in 1998. He is also an attorney, a tree farmer, a registered lobbyist and co-owner of Campbell's Bakery in Jackson.

As director of the NFIB, he helps to provide a voice for the state's small-business owners.

NFIB has 600,000 members nationwide and about 5,000 in Mississippi, making it America's largest advocacy organization representing small and independent businesses. With offices in Washington, D.C., and all 50 state capitals, NFIB (www.nfib.com) was ranked the most influential business organization (and 3rd overall), in "Washington's Power 25" survey conducted by Fortune magazine.

The Expo kicks off on Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 10 a.m. Displays are open until 5 p.m., and the Chamber Business After Hours event follows from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. Aldridge will speak when the Expo reopens for its second day at 10 a.m. The event closes at 3:30 p.m.

In conjunction with the Expo, the Harrison County Development Commission will host its Economic Excellence Awards luncheon on Oct. 11, also at the Convention Center. Tickets for the luncheon are on sale at the Mississippi Coast Chamber of Commerce office in Gulfport. Tickets are $32 per person, which includes admission to the Expo, and tables of 10 are available.

Northrop Grumman to give $1 million to fund relief efforts

Northrop Grumman Corporation (NYSE: NOC) announced that the company and its foundation are collectively contributing $1 million to relief efforts established in the aftermath of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

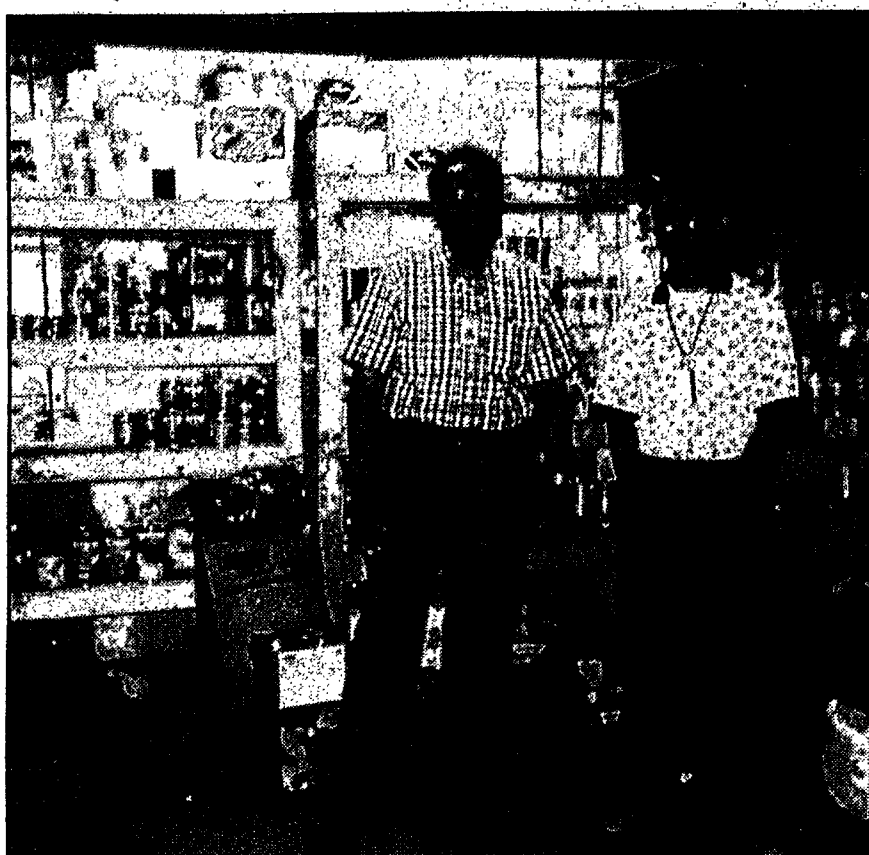

"We at Northrop Grumman are deeply saddened by the terrible tragedies occurring last week," said Kent Kresa, Northrop Grumman chairman, president and chief executive officer.

"This gift of $1 million will provide assistance to the victims of the attacks, as well as to the firefighters and police of New York and Washington, D.C., who are valiantly dealing with the aftermath of these horrible events."

A portion of the commitment includes dollar-for-dollar matching of employee contributions. Northrop Grumman is also encouraging employees to participate in blood donation days established throughout company sites.

Additionally, the company's community relations representatives will be identifying local nonprofit and regional initiatives for assisting disaster recovery efforts locally.

Eudora Welty Writers' Symposium set at MUW

It will be lucky number 13 this year for the Eudora Welty Writers' Symposium as a stellar group of writers gathers Oct. 18-20 to share their works and their ideas with delighted audiences.

The theme of the 13th annual Symposium is "A Kindred Soul to Laugh With: The Comic Spirit in Southern Literature."

The theme and the quotation from Miss Welty's "One Writer's Beginnings" were suggested by one of this year's authors, MUW's own Dr. Jane Hinton, who has returned recently from sabbatical with a collection of new short stories, several of which are now in publication.

This year's authors and audiences will add to the ongoing discussion about Southern humor: Is it different from other American humor? Do you have to be Southern to appreciate it?

In a year when Mississippi's Conference of the Book is featuring Miss Welty's hilarious Southern "Ponder Heart," the theme is particularly appropriate.

Hinton has taught at MUW for the past 27 years. She has served as chair of Faculty Senate, sponsored the Dilettanti for 10 years, was Humanities Teacher of the Year in 1999 and served on many councils and committees.

Joining Dr. Hinton will be Martin Clark of Virginia, author of the novel "The Many Aspects of Mobile Home Living," who has been called "John Grisham crossed with Alice Hoffman."

Clark is a circuit court judge who lives in Stuart. He was appointed to the bench in 1992 at the age of 32, making him, at the time, the youngest judge in the state and one of the youngest in the history of Virginia. Durkee, who now lives in Vermont, has had work to appear in Harper's Magazine, Zoetrope: All-story, The New England Review and the Oxford American.

Also coming is Alabama poet Honoree Fanonne Jeffers whose collection "The Gospel of Barbecue" has just been published by Kent State University Press.

Jeffers has received many awards, and her work has appeared or is forthcoming in several anthologies and journals. She has a bachelor of arts degree in English from Talladega College and a master of fine arts in creative writing from the University of Alabama.

North Carolinian Haven Kimmel's memoir, "A Girl Named Zippy," was released this spring. Publishers' Weekly stated "her smooth, impeccably humorous prose evokes her childhood as vividly as any novel."

Kimmel was born in Mooreland, Ind., and lived in Biloxi for two years. She studied English at Ball State University and spent three years in a Quaker seminary.

Sheri Reynolds, author of "Bitterroot Landing," "The Rapture of Canaan," and more, is scheduled for the opening Thursday evening session. Reynolds, whose work has been called "moving, uplifting, and empowering," is one of very few authors who has had two of her novels chosen as Oprah Book Club selections.

Reynolds is currently the Perry Morgan Chair of Southern Literature at Old Dominion University in Norfolk, Va.

Elizabeth Strout, who is the author of "Amy and Isabelle," was raised in small towns in New Hampshire and Maine.

Completing this illustrious group will be this year's winner of the Eudora Welty Prize, an author or scholar whose work will be published by the University Press of Mississippi.

A panel of judges will name the winner early in the fall, and he or she will speak during the Saturday morning session of the symposium.

Financially assisted by a grant from the Robert M. Hearin Support Foundation, the symposium is free and open to the public.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

Local Dealer Selling Vehicles Below Market Value!

Local Dealership will be selling vehicles for as low as $149.00 per month with some vehicles at $0 Down Payment. For the first time ever on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, this event will take place. Huey White, Jr. President and CEO of the Champion Automotive Group says, "Due to the increase in sales and recent market conditions, we contacted our local banks and lending institutions who have pledged their executive cars, repossessions and lease turn-ins. They will be disposed of at one location for this two day event." White continued, "You will pay only what is owed to the bank, the 'Deficiency Balance'. This program, the first of its kind to come to the Gulf Coast, will allow a consumer regardless of their credit to obtain a vehicle for a fraction of the cost."

All makes, models, foreign, domestic, Nissan, Dodge, Mazda, Toyota, Kia, Jeep, Chrysler, Toyota, Lexus and many more will be available and at below market value! The amount owed to the bank as well as the payments available will be clearly marked on every windshield. Payments start as low as $149.00 per month with many vehicles still under factory warranty. No wholesalers please! This is an event offered ONLY to the general public. Special appraisers will be flown in for this two-day event. Asked why bring people in for the event? White explained, "Just as we search the markets for lower prices in auto costs, market conditions change across the nation and these appraisers will give a generous amount for trade-ins, ship them out of this area where they will bring top dollar. That is how we will be able to pay off your trade no matter what you owe. You see, it's a win-win situation! No gimmicks, no hassle, just the real thing!"

Asked about financing for this event, White paused and replied, "That is the easy part, bankers, and finance specialists will arrive on Thursday so they can set up for this huge event. With TEN MILLION in available inventory, interest rates the lowest ever and banks with money ready to lend, don't hesitate to visit us this weekend at Champion in Gulfport."

This event will be held for two days only, Friday the 28th and Saturday the 29th at Champion Chrysler Dodge Jeep 435 East Pass Road [corner of Courthouse and Pass Rd.] in Gulfport.

Plants galore

Members of the Hancock County Master Gardeners, from left, Barbara Huet, Patsy Robinson, plant sale chairman Kay Williams, and president Judy Reeves, look over some of the plants that will be for sale in the group's second annual plant sale Saturday, Sept. 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Diamondhead Shopping Center parking lot. A large selection of plants, including annuals, perennials, indoor plants, shrubs, and many varieties of bulbs, irises, ginger and cannas, will be available.

Charity golfers will raise money to fight arthritis

Most people know about rheumatoid arthritis or osteoarthritis, because they have a relative, friend or acquaintance who suffers from the painful and often disabling condition.

Fewer people now that osteoporosis, fibromyalgia, carpal tunnel syndrome, lupus, bursitis and tendonitis are also forms of arthritis.

More than 430,000 Mississippians live with the conditions associated with arthritis, 1500 of them are children.

Arthritis limits every-day activities such as walking, dressing and bathing. It is one of the most prevalent chronic health problems and is the nation's leading cause of disability among Americans over 15 years old.

Last year, the Gulf Coast branch of the Arthritis Foundation/Mississippi Chapter opened in Waveland to provide programs, services and educational forums for Coast residents.

On Friday, Sept. 28, the branch will sponsor its 2nd annual "Links For Joints," a golf tournament fundraiser held at Windance Country Club.

Registration begins at 11:30 a.m. Lunch provided by Bully Rags Crawfish & Catering. Tee time is 1 p.m.

In addition, participants will be able to register for "Birdies for Charity" on a chance to win a 2001 Buick Regal.

Those in attendance last year already know about the great golf "goodie" bags and beautiful award plaques.

Phyllis Goodyear, branch director, serves Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Stone, George and Pearl River counties.

"We look forward to another successful tournament. The funds raised will allow us to continue our work in offering programs and services to the wonderful people in our community affected by one of the many forms of arthritis," she said.

To make a donation, send a check to Arthritis Foundation/Gulf Coast Branch, 121 Aiken Road, Waveland, MS 39576.

For information about arthritis or the golf tournament, call 467-2575.

Some of the prize packages include:

Set of Callaway irons from Nevada Bob's for Hole-in-One; Ping putter for Longest Drive; Closest to pin a Hippo Fairway 3, 5, or 7 wood.

Enjoy other contests such as Drive the Middle, Shortest Drive, and Highest Score. Drawing for a New Orleans Marriott weekend package and your day at the Second Annual Hope Haven Garage Sale to benefit neglected and abused children. The sale will be held at 841 Hwy. 90 from 8:30 a.m. until everything is gone.

Events -- full weekend

"There will be something for everyone," said shelter Director Terry Latham, "and the prices are low because everything must go."

The sale will offer items from toys, to business clothing, to furniture, pool tables and big screen TVs, among others. Internationally-acclaimed choreographer Michael Flatley's Lords of the Dance - stationed at Beau Rivage in Biloxi through next week - have also donated several items.

Also on Saturday, St. Rock United Methodist Church will be hosting Gospel Fest 2001 at Gulfside Methodist Assembly, at 950 S. Beach Blvd. from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The fest will offer more than just inspirational entertainment; 25 performers are scheduled, but food, crafts, and children's activities are planned, as well.

The fest will begin with a welcome by Mayor Tommy Longo, with singer Gigi Hines opening the show. Members of St. Rock will perform a play around noon, followed by a speech by Minister Mark Kinchner at 1 p.m. on the events in New York.

The remainder of the day will be highlighted by performers such as Josh Nolan; the 28th Street Youth Group of Gulfport, the members of which use American sign language with their songs; the First Presbyterian Church Choir; the Jesus Name Full Gospel Baptist Choir, and the New Light Mississippi Baptist Church Choir of VanCleave. Other highlights include a performance at 2 p.m. by Parthenia "Minnie" Young, and the Mt. Zion Conquerors at 4 p.m.

A closing presentation of Martin Luther King's "I have a dream..." speech will be performed by 13-year-old Ronnie Young of St. Rock Church.

For the children, the Waveland Fire Department will display fire trucks, and Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell will give a demonstration on finger printing. There will also be a clown, story telling and anti-smoking information. No alcohol will be served at the family-oriented event, but plenty of food will be available for sale to help raise money to build a sanctuary for the church. Admission to the fest is free. All performers have volunteered their time.

In Pass Christian on Saturday, Celebrate the Gulf, a Free Marine Education Festival, will be held on Saturday at the Pass Christian Harbor from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in conjunction with Petit Collage sponsored by the Pass-

Christian Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association, which will also continue on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A free shuttle between the two will be available on Saturday.

Petit Collage, which organizer Terry Scott said "began small and has grown to a full-size Collage of close to 50 artists and crafts persons," will be located on Scenic Drive, from Botanica at 118 W. Scenic Dr. to Davis Avenue and at Blue Skies Gallery.

Highlights of the event include an appearance by Jimmy Johnson, creator of the cartoon strip Arlo and Janis. Johnson will be at Botanica from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on both days.

The works of 12-year-old Jacob Cory Watts, an up-and-coming artist whose paintings have graced many calendars, along with the works of deceased coast impressionist painter Jeanne Warner will also be featured. Warner's son has just released some of her original pastels, oils and prints for viewing and sale. A video of an interview with Warner will also be available for viewing.

Food from area restaurants, the Boy Scouts, the Boys and Girls Club and the Rotary Youth Café will also be available.

Yet another event, the 18th annual Arts and Creative Crafts Show at Diamondhead sponsored by the Diamondhead Community Association Continuing Education and the Diamondhead Youth Association, will be held on Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. A free shuttle will be available from the Diamondhead Shopping Center parking lot on both days of the event.

The show will include many returning artists and crafts persons. Arts and crafts ranging from ceramics to handmade baskets, and from clothing to wrought iron pieces and cypress furniture will be available. There will also be handmade jewelry and other items. Food, ice cream and munchies will be available at booths, as well as eats provided by the Diamondhead Country Club.

Raffle tickets will be available on both days with a drawing held on Sunday.

Start early to attend all the events! And don't forget that Cruisin' the Coast is coming up next weekend. Cruisin' will be held Thursday October 4-6, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in historic downtown Bay St. Louis with additional classic car parking at the Depot. Organizers anticipate close to 5,000 classic car owners will participate. Some area streets will be closed. For more information on resident vehicle passes, call Barbara at 467-9092.

"very possible" and could be a solution to the problem of terrorists taking control of an air liner.

Aegler has e-mailed his suggestions to many, trying to solve the problem, beginning with President Bush, Boeing, Sen. Trent Lott, and U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor, in addition to Continental, United and American Airlines, as well as to others.

Gene Phillips, owner of Phillips Aviation, the fixed-base operator at Stennis International Airport, said, "Everything Aegler says is right. He has done a lot of research and had some good suggestions."

"This country has known for years it has had to do something to protect the pilots of commercial flights from air piracy," Phillips added. He has some 22,000 hours of flying and is an air transportation pilot.

Jesse Stonecipher, of Diamondhead, a retired Naval aviator, retired Master Army Aviator, in addition to being an air crash accident reconstructionist, who has investigated air crashes all over the U.S., Moscow, Manila, Tokyo, India and Mexico, in addition to presenting a research paper on air crashes in China, said, "He sure has passed the idea on to the right people to check it out."

It so happens that Henry Stonecipher, a cousin of Jesse Stonecipher, is still, or was the president and chief operating officer of Boeing.

Retired Air Force Col. Ruffin Gray of Diamondhead said, "The concept (Aegler's) may have the potential for the development of a fool-proof system."

Col. Ruffin was the commander of three fighter squadrons and also a Base and Wing Commander during his Air Force career.

Jim Mills, retired from the Federal Aviation Administration, also of Diamondhead, said, "Aegler's ideas sound feasible, are solid points for consideration, and they sound very promising and appear to be legitimate suggestions to solving the problems of air plane terrorists."

Mills traveled extensively with the FAA, and during his career helped set up civil aviation programs in several Pacific Rim countries.

Aegler's suggestion to eliminate air piracy and assure the American public of safety in flying includes the following:

Prior to engine start, set the GPS to the destination airport. Locate a transponder head on the bulkhead in easy ergonomic reach of the captain's hand and another unit on the right bulkhead for the use of the second pilot in case of a forced entry to the flight deck.

These should be preset to air piracy code, Mode 3/A code 7500. After a few seconds, perhaps 10, the fly-by-wire system to the cockpit will be completely severed from the cockpit and transferred to the autopilot guided by GPS.

Fuel controls must be transferred to remote control also to protect the aircraft and allow for shifts in weight and balance in flight as required. There will be no control in the cockpit available to the flight crew.

The autopilot and radio connections elsewhere will completely control the flight.

Upon arrival at the destination airport the automatic landing system, with input from a ground captain, would land the aircraft. It would be made to stop away from the passenger terminal and become a matter for the FBI, U.S. Marshals and SWAT teams.

Aegler's first suggestions were sent out Friday, Sept. 21, and after consulting with Dr. George A. Olson, PhD EE, Illinois Institute of Technology, he enhanced his thoughts Sept. 23 to the flight profile information which could be fed into the autopilot of commercial aircraft.

A small external door could be placed near the nose of commercial aircraft. It would be lockable by a key held by the captain only. Inside would be located a CD reader which would input into the autopilot a flight profile including necessary SIDs, ascents to cruising altitude, and descents into the destination airport.

These CDs would be property of the airline and issued prior to each departure. They would be returned to the airline at destination. One would be available for each flight and properly accounted for after the flight. No one inside the plane in flight could interfere with this device.

Aegler closed his second e-mail with, "Couple this with my previous suggestions, and the airline will be full once again. It is critical for our economy to solve this matter rapidly. Dr. Olson, from Chicago, and I are immediately available should you wish to consult with us."

Phillips did mention that an American had invented a special door for the pilots' cabin years back and that it is very durable and is in use by all commercial French planes today. Phillips feels that there should definitely be a separation between the pilots' cabin and the passenger compartments.

Red Cross Reach Out Rock Fest is Oct. 20

Reach Out Rock Fest 2001 is Oct. 20, noon to midnight at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum in Biloxi.

Disaster doesn't stop Gulf Coast musical artists from showing their hearts. On Sept. 11, America took a damaging blow which rocked the hearts of Coast musicians, therefore once again they have united to do a benefit concert that the American people will not forget, especially the ones who lost loved ones.

From the soft acoustical strumming sounds to the hard-hitting rock beats, artists from Baton Rouge to the far coast of Florida will appear live on stage at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

Even an encore presentation of America the Beautiful will be performed that day.

All proceeds from this special event are being donated to the American Red Cross which will carry the emotions and efforts of those musicians across America to fellow brothers and sisters in New York, Washington D.C., Pittsburgh, and the rest of the nation who lost loved ones due to the violence.

This event is produced by T-N-T Productions in conjunction with Matt Mozart Productions. Tickets will be available at any Ticket Master or the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum.

Tickets will be $15 each seat. Contact the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum at (229) 594-3700 for any questions concerning ticket sales. Contact Tod or Jennifer Davis at T-N-T Productions at (228) 896-9127 for questions or sponsorship support for this event.

Charles B. Murphy sponsors Fall Fest

Charles B. Murphy Elementary School PTO will be sponsoring a Fall Festival Saturday, Oct. 13, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. at the school off Hwy. 604 in Pearlinton. Anyone interested in renting a booth space to sell arts, crafts and etc. may contact Liz Vernaci, PTO president, at 228-533-0019.

Casual Classics
featuring
Soprano Nancy Ross
Baritone Stephen
Rushing

Diamondhead favorite Soprano Nancy Ross and Baritone Stephen Rushing headline an enchanting evening of music's most memorable moments.

Offering a delectable pallet of hits from opera, operetta and Broadway, this handsome couple win delight you with arias from La Traviata, Carmen and Don Giovanni to name a few; songs and duets from The Student Prince, Phantom of the Opera, New Moon, Die Fledermaus, Candide and Kiss Me Kate are just some of the selections which await you.

Nancy Ross, no stranger to Diamondhead audiences, returns after her thrilling participation in last year's season's classic film presentation of Lon Chaney's The Phantom of the Opera.

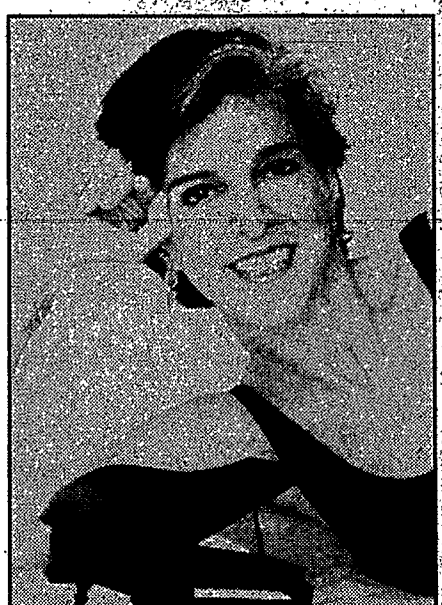

In July 2001, she made her operatic Italy debut in Verdi's classic "La Traviata," the same role which garnered the following praise from the New Orleans music critic, Theodore Mahne: "Her tour de force 'Sempere Libera' was as good as any I have heard live."

She has sung with some of America's most notable institutions: The Los Angeles Philharmonic, Denver Symphony, Aberdeen Scotland Symphony, New Orleans Opera and the Lake Como, Italy Summer Opera Festival among many.

Baritone Stephen Rushing is the perfect match for Nancy. Having recently starred with her in JPAS' recent production of "Kiss Me, Kate," Rushing is a veteran of many professional stage offerings. He is a frequent contributor to New Orleans Opera productions, most recently as the duel role of Prince Yamadori and the Commissioner. Other credits among many include a recent, extensive guest artist recital tour of the People's Republic of China and starring roles with the Ohio Light Opera Company in Wooster, Ohio.

Marcia Ball

Marcia Ball honed her powerful singing and deft, rollicking keyboard chops while growing up in the small town of Vinton, Louisiana on the Texas border. This musical and cultural frontier has produced such other roots-music greats as Gatemouth Brown, George Jones, Janis Joplin, Clarence Garlow, Cleveland Crochet, Clifton Chenier, Joe Bonsall and Johnny and Edgar Winter.

It was and still is a hotbed of country, blues, gospel, Cajun, Zydeco, rockabilly and Gulf Coast "swamp pop," and young Marcia absorbed it all, even as she was receiving her formal piano training.

She has appeared at virtually every major festival on both continents, received glowing reviews in all major music publications, and been featured on leading radio and television programs around the globe.

She received the 1998 Handy Award for Contemporary Female Vocalist of the Year and is no nominated again in 2000, as well as for Blues Instrumentalist-Keyboards.

In 1999, Marcia and her band appeared in Performance At

1991: Stephen Ambrose begins soliciting D-Day veterans recordings

TEN YEARS AGO

September 26, 1991 - Dr. Stephen Ambrose is working to take a piece of the past into the future. Ambrose, a local resident, historical author and director of the University of New Orleans' Eisenhower Center, is calling on veterans of the June 6, 1944 Normandy invasion to contribute oral histories of their recollections of D-Day to a tape recording he is producing.

He stated, "In 1983, the Eisenhower Center began collecting D-Day recollections. About 700 have been collected to date from Americans and about 100 from British, French and German veterans." Ambrose's goal is to collect at least 2,000 recollections.

According to a new state attorney general's opinion, governing officials on Bay St. Louis will be able to designate where they do and do not want dockside gambling operations to be located. An opinion released Tuesday afternoon states that city leaders in areas with legal dockside gaming may enact reasonable zoning laws which restrict locations of casinos.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

September 27, 1981 - The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday approved a 50 cent per month garbage increase effective Oct. 23, 1981. Citing "inflation and economic conditions, including labor and materials" as reasons, the council approved at $3.50 per month rate for both homeowners and renters.

Ray Mabus, legislative assistant to Governor William Winter, will be the guest speaker at a Public Forum sponsored by the Concerned Citizens Organization of Hancock County Oct. 5 at 1:30 p.m. in Valena C. Jones Complex, Bay St. Louis. The main topic of the forum will be compulsory school attendance and kindergarten in public schools. Geraldine Lang, president of the Concerned Citizens said, "I feel this is the time to let our state officials know our feelings on compulsory education and kindergarten."

FORTY YEARS AGO

September 28, 1961 - Physical examinations at Keesler Air Force Base were on the calendar today for 75 members of the National Guard's 134th Transportation Co. who are scheduled to depart Monday, Oct. 9, for active duty at Fort Chaffee, Ark. Sgt. Wilbert Adams said the group was to leave in uniform about 10:30 a.m. and spend most of the day there for check-ups before mobilization.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

September 28, 1951 - Larry Scharff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scharff of Bay St. Louis, was named editor of the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw, succeeding Phil Seurer who was graduated last year. Scharff, a junior, has served three years on the school paper's staff, and during the summer he worked at The Sea Coast Echo.

He is beginning his eighth year at St. Stanislaus and seventh in the band. Edward Shofield of New Orleans will serve as associate editor, and Donald Levy of Bay St. Louis will take over as sports editor.

Sales of Defense Bonds for the first eight months of 1951 reach $15,109,105 for Mississippi. Of this amount, Hancock County sold $78,344 during this period. These figures were released by Leo Ford, chairman, Hancock County Defense Bond Committee.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

September 26, 1941 - Boston

College again returns to Bay St. Louis. Sugar Bowl champions of last year will stop for one day. Last season Boston College came to Stanislaus to train for the Sugar Bowl Classic in which they were to play Tennessee on New Year's Day in New Orleans.

This year however they will play Tulane on September 27. The morning of Sept. 26, the Eagles will arrive here (via train) at the break of day at our little town, and many will remain here until about 9 a.m. on the day of the game, then will go to New Orleans in two buses furnished by St. Stanislaus.

Incidentally, the towns folks will get a chance to see the Eagles' practice twice on the Stanislaus Football Field. Brother Peter went up to Boston, Mass., for the victory banquet given in honor of the victors of the Sugar Bowl.

SSC to clash with Bay; Walker and Moran tally offensive/defensive player awards

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Week four in high school football provided upsets for some local teams. The Bay High Tigers (3-1), previously undefeated and ranked No. 19 in the state, lost their Homecoming Game against the East Central Hornets 10-9. The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (1-3) won a battle of winless teams 34-19 against the Ocean Springs Greyhounds. The Hancock Hawks (3-1) won a thriller 20-17 against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets. The Pass High Pirates (3-1) were blanked by the d'Iberville Warriors 14-0.

Last week, the Bay High Tigers celebrated their Homecoming in front of an extremely large crowd at Joe D. McCullough Stadium. All in attendance witnessed a tremendous game from both teams. With 36 left to play in the game, Ryan Guardia booted the Hornets to victory with a 43-yard field goal.

Bay High overcame a 7-0 half-time deficit to score twice in the fourth quarter. The first score came from a Tim Wright field goal and the second score from senior running back Charles Hawkins. Hawkins has scored in all four Tiger ball games this year.

After Hawkins' score the Tigers took a 9-7 lead. The PAT was no good following what appeared to be a bad snap.

This week the Bay High Tigers will tangle with cross-town rival St. Stanislaus for the annual Crab Trap Trophy presented by the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis.

Last week, SSC defeated Ocean Springs 34-19 to earn their first points and victory of the season. Scoreless and winless in their first three attempts, the Rocks exploded for 34 points. Their scores came from three touchdown passes, a rushing touchdown, and an interception return.

Logan Walker hauled in two touchdown receptions while Dustin Coogan tallied the other one. Travis Morris recorded the score on the ground and Ashton Wright returned an errant Dan O'Brien pass 40 yards for a score. Jeremy Lewis threw two touchdown passes for the Rocks while Tim Kulikowski added the other.

Defensively, the Rocks were led by Lee Klein with 13 total tackles. Michael Cure, B.J. Ledet, and Kit Stovall each had 10 total tackles in the game.

The game between Bay High and SSC will mark the 34th time the two teams have played. SSC owns an 18-15 lead in the series that dates back to the 1948 season, including three straight wins over the Tigers. The biggest margin of victory for Bay High was a 52-0 win in 1986 while SSC's largest one-sided win was 45-0 in 1948. However, the games the last three years have been decided by five or fewer points.

This year Bay High features a one-two punch in the form of Monroe Jordan and Charles Hawkins. SSC will counter with a passing attack that features a two-quarterback rotation in Jeremy Lewis and Tim Kulikowski. Receivers Gabe Willis, Dustin Coogan, and Logan Walker are the primary targets.

The game will be played at Joe D. McCullough Stadium on Athletic Drive in Bay St. Louis. If you are going to the game, plan to get there early for a seat.

Hancock relied on two scoring drives in the final four minutes of play to take the sting out of the Yellow Jackets 20-17.

Necaise connected with Chase Sackett for a five-yard touchdown pass with 4:20 left to play. The Yellow Jackets returned the ensuing kickoff back 75 yards for the touchdown to go up 17-13. However, Necaise had other plans.

After a foiled series, the Hawks got the ball back and Necaise ran 32 yards for the go-ahead score with 1:17 left to play.

On the night, Necaise was 12-for-21 and 145 yards. He threw two scoring passes and ran for another.

This week the Hawks will host the Petal Panthers in their division opener at the "Hawks Nest" in Kiln.

The Pass High Pirates were shutout and lost for the first time this season 14-0 by the d'Iberville Warriors. Torey Staten galloped for 207 yards and one score in the contest that was the division opener for both schools.

The Warriors did an excellent job in keeping the explosive Calvin Woods in check.

This week the Pass High Pirates will move outside of district play to host Sumrall in their final non-conference game of the year.

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #4 is SSC's Logan Walker. The senior wide receiver caught two passes for 50 yards and two scores in the Rocks' first victory of 2001. Last week, SSC raced past the Greyhounds of Ocean Springs 34-19.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #4 is Hancock's Donnie Moran. The senior defensive lineman recorded eight tackles, one quarterback sack, and forced two fumbles in the Hawks' thrilling 20-17 come-from-behind win over the St. Martin Yellow Jackets.

Kickoff for all games is set for 7:30 p.m. See you at the game!

Hawk swimmers start season with three wins

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO
The Hancock High Swim Team has opened the 2001 swim season with consecutive victories over d'Iberville, Gulfport, and Harrison Central.

Ryan Chauvin, Cindy Spangler, Adam Rosser, JJ Averill, Ian Blakeney, Chris Raffo, Brian Easter, Andrea White, and Amanda Reuter have all posted times in their respective events that qualify them to participate in the MHSAA State Championship

Meet. The championship meet is scheduled for Saturday, November 3, at the Biloxi Natatorium.

Summer Carrington, Karolanne Darby, Kayla Favre, Jamie Flowers, Kristine Frances, Samantha Gregory, Melissa Jassby, Matt Laceyfield, Tim Joost, Lindsey Lind, Michael Lind, Julia Maciel, Chelsea Necaise, Jenna Plaisance, Rachel Selzer, Trey Swanson, and Chris White are the other members of the Hawk swim team.

The next meet for Hancock will be at the Biloxi Natatorium to compete in the Biloxi Invitational. On October 6, the Hawks will travel back to Biloxi to compete in the Biloxi Invitational.

OLA, Bay High win big in volleyball action

OLA-Mercy Cross
Our Lady Academy had no mercy on Mercy Cross, winning 15-0, 15-2 Tuesday night in high school volleyball action. Emily Meyers and Julie Reboul scored nine and six points respectively for the Crescents. "Great floor play by Clare Adam and Rachel Cranford and kills by Mikki Kenny and Katherine Milner." The team is a perfect 11-0 in division play.

In the junior varsity contest, OLA won 15-8, 7-15, 15-1 to improve their record to 7-6. Victoria Romano scored 12 points, followed by Vada McNally with 10.

OLA will host the Pass Christian Lady Pirates tonight at 6 p.m.

Bay High-Pass Christian
The Bay High Lady Tigers sunk the Pass Christian Lady Pirates 15-6, 15-7 Tuesday night in volleyball play. Shaupon Willis served for 13 points for the Lady Tigers.

In the junior varsity game, Bay High won in three sets, 12-15, 15-12, 15-9. JoAnna Mannion scored 13 points for the Lady Tigers.

Bay High will travel to Long Beach tonight to face the Lady Bearcats at 6 p.m.

The Conference races take shape

BY BOB HARMON
SPORTSLINE.COM

Name your conference this week and chances are there's a very big game taking place in it, perhaps none bigger than Mississippi State's visit to Florida in the Southeastern Conference. Because of what the M.S.U. Bulldogs did to the Gators exactly a year ago, they have their work cut out for them on Saturday in Gainesville. Last season, on its home field in Starkville, Miss., M.S.U. handed third-ranked Florida its first loss of 2000, 47-35, grinding out 351 of 517 total yards on the ground, the most rushing yards and points given up by the Gators since they were humiliated by Nebraska in the '96 Fiesta Bowl. It was the Bulldogs' first win over a top-three team since '80, but they won't repeat it.

Elsewhere in the S.E.C., L.S.U. visits Tennessee and South Carolina hosts Alabama, while Clemson heads to Georgia

Tech in the Atlantic Coast Conference. What do all these matchups have in common with the one above? All resulted in upsets of ranked teams by unranked teams in '00. L.S.U. won an overtime thriller over then-No. 11 Tennessee, 38-31 (the Tigers' first win over a ranked team in two years); Alabama continued its domination over No. 23 South Carolina with its 10th straight win in their series, 27-17; and Georgia Tech stunned No. 5 Clemson 31-28 on Kerry Watkins's one-handed, 16-yard TD catch with seven seconds left to play. This time around we like Tennessee by 14, South Carolina by 17 and Georgia Tech by nine.

In the Big 12, Kansas State at Oklahoma looms large as the Sooners' first big test. We're not sure they're the best team in the country, but they're at least 12 points better than K-State. Last year the Sooners were on their way up, ranked eighth, when they dealt the second-ranked Wildcats their first loss in Manhattan, Kan., in 26 games, 41-31. Later, having climbed to No. 1, Oklahoma beat K-State again in the Big 12 championship game, 27-24.

And how good is Oklahoma's Big 12 arch-rival, Texas? The Longhorns should easily handle the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

Two of the week's best games will unfold in the Pacific-10, though it would be impossible to expect more of U.C.L.A.-Oregon State or Stanford-Southern Cal than they treated us to last year. Both the O.S.U. Beavers and the Stanford Cardinal overcame 10-point fourth-quarter deficits to win, and once again both face-offs look just as close: U.C.L.A. and Stanford will squeak by.

The highlight in the Big Ten will be Northwestern's win over Michigan State. In '00 the Wildcats' 37-17 thrashing of the Spartans was a huge upset; this weekend's somewhat less-one-sided contest won't be.

Finally, a notable non-conference battle: Our best-known independent, Notre Dame, will take its fourth in a row (since '93) from Texas A&M.

Losing to M.S.U. a year ago, 47-35, the Florida Gators gave up more rushing yards and points than they had since their disastrous '96 Fiesta Bowl loss to Nebraska. Guess who suffers this week.

Perk sweeps
Pear River
in soccer

Mississippi Gulf Coast swept Pearl River Community College Saturday at Perkinston in men's and women's MACJC South Division soccer action.

Pearl River's men entered the game undefeated in the league, but were shutout 2-0 by the Bulldogs to drop to 3-2-1 overall and 3-1 in division play, while Gulf Coast's men improved to 5-1-1 and 2-0-1.

The Lady Wildcats were defeated 10-0 by the powerful Lady Bulldogs to drop to 0-3 and 0-3.

Bay Jr High squeaks
by in double-overtimeBY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay Junior High Tigers and the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws' junior high team locked horns on the gridiron Monday at the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex.

The game was a classic crosstown rivalry game with the Tigers coming out victorious in a double-overtime 14-12 win. The first quarter ended in a scoreless 0-0 tie.

With 5:20 left to play in the second quarter, Tiger quarterback Trevor Adam snuck in for the score from four yards out. The two-point conversion was snuffed out by Rock defensive back Andrew Chevis who intercepted an Adam pass in the endzone to keep the score 6-0.

With 1:17 left in the third quarter, the Rocks scored on a 69-yard pass from quarterback Lance Cuevas to wide receiver Zack Elkin. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score tied 6-6.

The remainder of the game showcased the two teams tough defensive play. On the Tigers' side, the play of Robert Keys highlighted the defense. For the Rocks, it was Andrew Chevis.

Keys repeatedly burst through the line to make the sack on the Rock quarterback.

chorale joined with the USM Symphony and the Oratorio Chorus in singing the Brahms Requiem.

It is the goal of the Civic Chorale to develop a premier choir that sings a diverse and challenging repertoire ranging from the Renaissance to the 20th century Classics to the American Classics.

Joanne Edwards is a past president of both the Mississippi Music Educators Association and the Mississippi Chapter of American Choral Directors Association. She was selected as an inaugural member of the Mississippi Hall of Master Teachers and the Long Beach School Board Hall of Fame. Her choirs have toured numerous European countries as well as Canada and Mexico. Dr. John Adams is Professor Emeritus of Piano at Mars Hill college in North Carolina. He received his Bachelor of Music degree from Louisiana State University and a Doctor of Music degree from Indiana University. He currently serves as director of Music at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Gulfport.

Bert Hill
with his

Over the Hill Jazz Band
Bert Hill's "Over the Hill Jazz Band" has been entertaining audiences nationwide since the early '50s. In fact, Bert and his pianist have known each other since childhood -- so it's readily apparent their title "Over the Hill."

Nevertheless, the group has performed recently at New York's Waldorf Astoria (December 30, 2000). The past 10 years has seen them performing annual gigs in Connecticut.

The band has also played in Jackson and around the Delta a good bit while entertaining annually in Des Moines as well as Oxford, Miss.

Although the band lists Woodland, Miss. (in North Central Mississippi) as its home base, logistically the members come from many different areas, such as Jackson, Grenada and Houston, MS.

Harry Connick, Sr.
with
His Great Band

If ever there was a "made for motion pictures" life story, it would be that of a quite remarkable singer by the name of Harry Connick, Senior.

Most people, in most parts of the world, would recognize Harry Connick first and foremost as he father of his illustrious and talented son, Harry, Jr.

But if you lived in Louisiana, and more particularly in New Orleans, you would be likely to say, "Oh, that's the D.A.!" For if the senior Connick is making a big name in show business, he has already made an established one in the legal profession, most notably as the District Attorney of New Orleans.

While in high school, the young district-attorney-to-be followed the music of the big band era and its vocalists, learning the lyrics to all the popular songs of the day by listening to the radio and records and by purchasing (at 10 cents a copy) the weekly song books which proliferated during that time.

After high school, he served in the U.S. Navy before returning to New Orleans and graduating from Loyola University with a degree in business administration.

He then joined the U.S. Corps of Engineers where he met his wife, the late Anita Connick (an accomplished flute player) who became one of the first male judges in the city of New Orleans.

When Harry and Anita Connick returned to New Orleans, they opened a record store which became quite successful. Ultimately they owned two stores while simultaneously pursuing law degrees -- one working in the store while the other was at school.

The stores enabled the Connicks to pursue their musical interests while generating enough earnings to graduate with law degrees. Along the way, they produced two remarkable children, a daughter Suzanna, who is a student nurse, and Harry, Jr. At that point a career decision had to be made. The law won and show business lost, though temporarily, as history has shown.

Harry Connick served as an attorney for the New Orleans Legal Aid Bureau and as assistant U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of Louisiana. He was honored by the U.S. attorney general for superior performance while an assistant U.S. attorney and by Louisiana State University for outstanding service in law enforcement training. He has served as vice president and president of the Criminal Bar Association.

Connick has received national recognition for his establishment of a career criminal bureau and a victim/witness assistance program. His child support enforcement division collects millions of dollars from runaway parents for care of their children.

Today, Connick's goals as district attorney are much the same as when he first took office. He has pledged to provide speedy, fair and equitable justice and to continue to express his deep concern, not only in the area of rehabilitation of offenders, but also in the area of assistance to the often forgotten victims of crime.

Blue Angels to fly in NAS Meridian Air Show

At the end of World War II, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, then the Chief of Naval Operations, ordered the formation of a flight demonstration team to keep the public interested in naval aviation. It worked!

The Blue Angels performed their first flight demonstration less than a year later in June 1946 -- and you can see the 2001 Blue Angels demonstration team on Saturday, Sept. 29 at Naval Air Station Meridian, Miss.

The "Wings Over Meridian 2001" air show will celebrate the station's 40th birthday. It will feature the Blue Angels exhibiting the choreographed refinements of Navy-trained flying skills.

Their demonstration presents the graceful, aerobatic maneuvers of the four-plane "diamond" and the fast-paced high performance maneuvers of the solo pilots in the number five and six jets. It also spotlights all six jets performing together in the renowned delta formation.

Also, sure to be a crowd-pleaser will be the JATO (Jet Assisted Take Off) by Fat Albert, the name affectionately given to the squadron's C-130.

Eight solid-fuel rockets attached to the sides of the C-130 help Fat Albert take off in less than 1,500 feet, climb at an angle of 45 degrees and attain an altitude of 1,000 feet in minimum time.

The A-10 "Warthog" Demonstration Team will bring the power and pride of the U.S. Air Force from its home in the Arizona Sonoran Desert.

The team is part of the 355th Wing based at Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz. Their demonstration shows why the A-10 is heralded as the world's premier close air support fighter.

The U.S. Marine Corps will be on hand with an AV-8B "Harrier" demonstration. The "Harrier" from Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point, N.C., will thrill the crowd with a display of the aircraft's abilities, including a 90-degree climbing turn, a high-speed pass over the runway, and a vertical landing.

Other military aircraft performing in the air show include the jet training aircraft presently in use at NAS Meridian. The "Tigers" will be flying their T-2C "Buckeyes," and the "Eagles" will soar in their T-45C "Goshawks."

Civilian acts include Jim LeRoy, Gene Soucy and Tora 101. Jim LeRoy, with Bulldog Air Shows, will give you low, wild and exhilarating hardcore action delivered in non-stop rapid fire.

Gene Soucy, who has won more awards than any other active air show pilot, will deliver thrill after thrill, from gyroscopic tumbling to a heart-stopping inverted ribbon cut to a wing-walking act with Teresa Stokes. Tora 101 brings surprise attack and dogfight routines.

Mark your calendars for Saturday, Sept. 29, and make plans to help NAS Meridian celebrate 40 years of training excellence at the "Wing Over Meridian" air show.

The gates will open at 9 a.m., and admission will be free.

Aircraft are expected to be in the air as early as 10 a.m. Air show parking can be accessed via Hwy. 39 and Hwy. 45.

People with "Handicap" identification on their vehicles should arrive via Highway 39, using the left lane on John Stennis Dr.

For more information, check out the air show web site at www.cnet.navy.mil/meridian and then click on "The Blues Are Coming."

Don't forget to bring cameras, sunscreen, chairs, and strollers or wagons for the little ones.

Food, beverages and souvenirs will be available from concessionaires. No coolers, pets, alcohol, bicycles, scooters or weapons permitted.

Scott Aquarium launches 2001-02 volunteer program

Scott Aquarium volunteers launched its new work year in Biloxi Wednesday (Sept. 19) with a glimpse of Mississippi's underwater world, coastal humor and a taste of the sea creatures they are learning about.

The first day of the three-day DIVERSE (Docents in Various Endeavors in Research, Science, and Education) orientation at the J.L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium closed with a humorous look at coastal history by James LeBatard of Gautier.

Following his presentation, Scott Aquarium and Gulf Coast Research Laboratory faculty and staff joined volunteers in a seafood buffet around the facility's 42,000-gallon Gulf of Mexico tank.

The volunteer program matches needs at the aquarium with volunteers' interests and abilities.

"We are always glad to have volunteers with some scientific background, but the most important qualifications are interest, dedication, willingness to learn and the ability to commit four hours per week for four months at a time," volunteer coordinator

Jeannie Flint said.

"We have shifted focus in this year's orientation," she noted. "We are doing things we really like to do, and experienced volunteers are doing the training."

In the midst of the fun and fellowship, new volunteers and docents - volunteer teachers - will be accumulating knowledge about the aquarium and the plants, animals and processes of Mississippi's coastal and Gulf waters.

Today they will observe the Project Marine Discovery field trip program for school groups in action. Friday afternoon they will meet the behind-the-scenes aquarium staff and dive into hands-on experiences with fish biology, Japanese fish printing, horseshoe crabs and the Scott Aquarium touch tank.

Dr. Sharon H. Walker, Scott Aquarium administrator, said the volunteers are vital to the operation of the aquarium, established in 1984 as the public education and outreach facility of the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs.

"The lifeblood of this center - for all of our programs - rests in our volunteers. They help us so much from clerical to teaching, exhibit construction and repair, animal care and gift shop operation. We do appreciate the coastal community helping to better inform children and adults about Mississippi's marine and coastal resources."

Both the aquarium and the GCRL are part of The University of Southern Mississippi College of Marine Sciences.
